Dispute settled twixt sheriff, bailbondsmen

A consent decree dated May 12, issued by the U.S. District Court in Biloxi, and signed by all parties concerned, determined an out of court settlement in the case of Owen and O'Neal Bonding Company vs. Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr., sheriff, Hancock County.

Under the terms of the decree, Ladner will refrain from discriminating against the bonding company in favor of other sureties.

In exchange, the bonding company agreed: their agent Whitney Carvin, Sr., would not write, or submit, or solicit any bail bonds in Hancock County; that they would submit to Ladner a report of all judgement lists rendered by any court with respect to bail bonds written by the plaintiffs as sureties; that they would provide a statement of their financial condition by mail to Ladner on a semi-annual basis.

Earl Owen and Leon O'Neal, owners of the bonding company, filed suit against Ladner last March, in U.S. District Court, Biloxi.

The suit claimed the sheriff was refusing to authorize the company's bail bonds because Carvin refused to support Ladner in his 1975 re-election campaign.

Further the suit alleged that Ladner had not allowed their bonds since January, 1976, following his re-election.

Ladner allowed that Owen and O'Neal wrote every bond in the county between August and December, 1975, following the August election.

He said that the disagreement between he and Carvin had been building up for some time.

Ladner disclaimed holding interest in any bonding company, an allegation seemingly stated in the lawsuit.

"Four companies are presently writing bonds in the county," he said.

The consent decree, which stated in part, "The parties, through their at-

Appeal denied in $375,000 judgement against city, late facts may add twist

by JAKE JACOB

The City of Bay St. Louis will probably be filing some additional pleadings with the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals concerning the affirmed judgement of $375,000 in damages payable to Jimmy Ray Warner, III, as the result of injuries received in a diving accident July 4, 1969.

The court affirmed the award of U.S. District Court Judge Walter Nixon of Biloxi, who earlier approved the sum, reducing it from $750,000 the amount originally awarded.

Judge Nixon had ruled that while Warner was partly to blame, the city should have posted signs warning of the danger of diving off the city pier.

Following the incident, Warner was paralyzed from the neck down.

News files concerning the accident state, in part... "Jim Warner, 16, 4701 Gallahad, New Orleans, was injured when he dove off the Bay St. Louis municipal pier in shallow water about 3:15 Friday afternoon (July 4). Companions pulled him out of the water and aid was summoned."

The pier concerned was destroyed in August of that year in the violence of Hurricane Camille.

Short of appealing the upheld Judge Nixon ruling to the U.S. Supreme Court, it appeared early this week that Bay St. Louis' incoming administration faced a hurdle of an almost insurmountable nature immediately on taking office in July, and then only if incumbent mayor Warren Carver was able to arrange a stay of execution by the court or court order until after he left office at the end of June.

On Thursday City Attorney Joseph Gex received a telephone call from a male stating that he was the father of young Warner and he wished to know the procedure to be followed for him to collect a share of the court award.

After explaining that funds were payable in trust to the person named by the court, Gex was told the Warner boy had died some 18 months ago - a factor not apparently known by either of the appeal courts at the time of their deliberations.

Gex said he had been informed the parents of the deceased had "split up" since the accident but was not in possession of details concerning that aspect of the case.

The additional pleadings now seemingly open to Bay St. Louis hinge around the fact that the court's judgement was probably and/or possibly influenced by the thoughts of money required by the Warner boy, unable to work, to sustain himself during his lifetime.

George Morse, who with Walter James Phillips, both attorneys, represented Bay St. Louis at the hearings with the courts of appeal, said Friday that the disclosure of Warner's death was not made at a hearing in March on the appeal. The two attorneys have also asked for a 90-day stay of execution - the period required to postpone action until after the new administration takes office in Bay St. Louis.

Attorney John Hunter of Pascagoula who represented young Warner at the hearings reportedly said Friday that while he did not know the date of Warner's death, it came prior to the court action.

The incident occurred just a few, scant days before the swearing-in of Mayor Carver's last administration consisting of himself, Commissioner William Friesle, and Commissioner Andre Arceneaux.

Carver was at that time being sworn in for a second term, having previously served as mayor from 1949-1953.

In office at the time of the incident was the retiring administration of Mayor John Scaife, Jr., and Commissioners Cyril Glover and Warren Traub.

Carver, upon hearing of the latest appeals court decision, said, "If Bay St. Louis were not so heavily burdened with long-term obligations, which now exceed $3 million, the $375,000 would not be too difficult to handle, but this could

Escapees still at large, believed roaming area

No arrests have been made following the escape last week of four prisoners from the county jail.

At least two of the escapees are believed to be still in the area with "sighting" reports having reached police officers through an area encompassing all of Hancock County and West Harrison County.

The four prisoners who escaped are: Jimmy Sullivan, born 7-1-56, age 20, height 5 ft. 6 ins., 150 lbs., brown short hair, Rt. 3, Box 385, Bay St. Louis,

Ammunition plant explodes into reality with Congressional $'s

by JAKE JACOB

NASA's National Space Technologies Laboratory (NSTL)

Speculation arose concerning the possibility of the NASA installation being turned over to the military for operation following the Navy's transfer of two major operations to the site (Naval Ocean Research and Development Activity and Naval Oceanographic Office), and the original funding request to Congress.

Inside the wrapper is, according to Senator John Stennis, a $183 million bundle for Mississippi.

Of this amount, $180.2 million is to be allocated the munitions plant project. Other state allocations include: $19,000 for the National Guard training facility at Camp Shelby and $281,000 for a like facility at Camp McNamee; $937,000 for a 200-man armory at Meridian.

The munitions plant, originally known in the county by the code name of "Steel City" is reportedly to be built in the north half of the fee area inside at NSTL.

According to the final environmental impact statement, the plant will cover 600 acres and will produce an improved type of 155 mm ammunition.

The project will fill a void in the munitions production base to meet mobilization requirements for the M483 155mm projectile.

The M483 is a dual purpose projectile for the 155 mm howitzer utilizing anti-armor or anti-personnel controlled fragmentation shaped-charge grenades.

"Major socioeconomic impacts (to the area) include: a projected population increase of approximately 2925 persons - 750 of these being school-age children; the creation of an estimated 10,410 new direct and indirect jobs, additional traffic to and from the site, and added demands on community services due to the increase in population," the report states.

When operational the ammunition

Council discusses new truck

The City Council of Bay St. Louis held a brief meeting Monday morning and discussed only a few items of business. The major topic of discussion centered on the need for replacement of a city garbage truck.

Jim Torbit, superintendent of sanitation and public grounds, met with the council to discuss the need for a new garbage truck. He said the city presently has a 1972 model truck which has over 100,000 miles and is constantly in need of expensive repairs. Mayor Warren Carver quoted several repair bills for the past few months and expressed his concern for the need of a replacement for the old truck. Torbit said the city was to the point of either having to continue the expensive repairs or replace the vehicle. It was noted that the city received three bids for a new truck, with the lowest being for over $19,000, but had not taken any action due to a lack of funds. Further study showed the city did not have enough money in revenue sharing to purchase a truck so no action was taken on the problem at the present time.

Local girls invited to Basketball camp

Girls in the Bay St. Louis area are invited to participate in one of three Lady Choctaw Basketball Camps being sponsored by Mississippi College this summer.

The first camp will be June 27 through July 1 and will be for beginners only. It will be designed for girls in the seventh grade or below who are just beginning to learn basketball. This will be a day camp only with morning and afternoon sessions.

An Intermediate Camp is scheduled for July 17-22. This camp will be geared for ninth grade students and below who have played basketball but need extensive work in the country today.

Ed Nixon, head coach of the Lady Chocs for the past six years, will serve as camp director for each of the sessions. He will be assisted by members of the Lady Chocs basketball team.

Because enrollment is limited, camp reservations will be accepted as they are received. Applicants are urged to mail registrations early to insure placement in the session of their choice.

The fee for the beginners session will be $35, while the other two camp sessions will run $75 for fulltime resident campers and $38 for day campers. The fee for the ACA Academy will be $89.

Application forms and a brochure explaining the camp programs can be secured by writing Lady Choc Basketball Camp, Mississippi College, Clinton, Miss., 39058.

Ladner said the situation was dangerous to society, adding, "The idea of one federal judge having the power and authority to virtually run the entire penal system of the State of Mississippi is ridiculous.

"I believe it is about time somebody in our state does something about it."

He said, "As matters now stand every city and county in the State of Mississippi is a dangerous hot spot for having hardened criminals break out from our jails and become a menace to our society."

Ladner allowed that conditions at Parchman were none of his business saying, "...that is a matter for the state."

"I am only interested in protecting my area and I can not do it unless I have a place to send dangerous criminals to be incarcerated," Ladner allowed.

On the previous jail break the three we spotted in the vicinity of the St. Joseph Academy Memorial Gymnasium by Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams, who also led the arrest.

Should any of the four prisoners be spotted, Sheriff Ladner asks citizens to report the fact either to his office, the Bay or Waveland Police Departments, or the Mississippi State Highway Patrol without delay.

At that time Carver said an additional appeal could be costly for the city and he felt that an outgoing administration should not make the decision but should leave it to the new government.

"Because of its poor credit rating I am uncertain if the city could raise $375,000 through bond sales without paying an exorbitant interest rate.

"I really believe our only hope is to appeal to the courts to have leniency and give the new group time to deal with this question," Carver allowed.

Carver estimated that a two to three mill tax increase for the next 20 years would be needed to pay off the judgement.

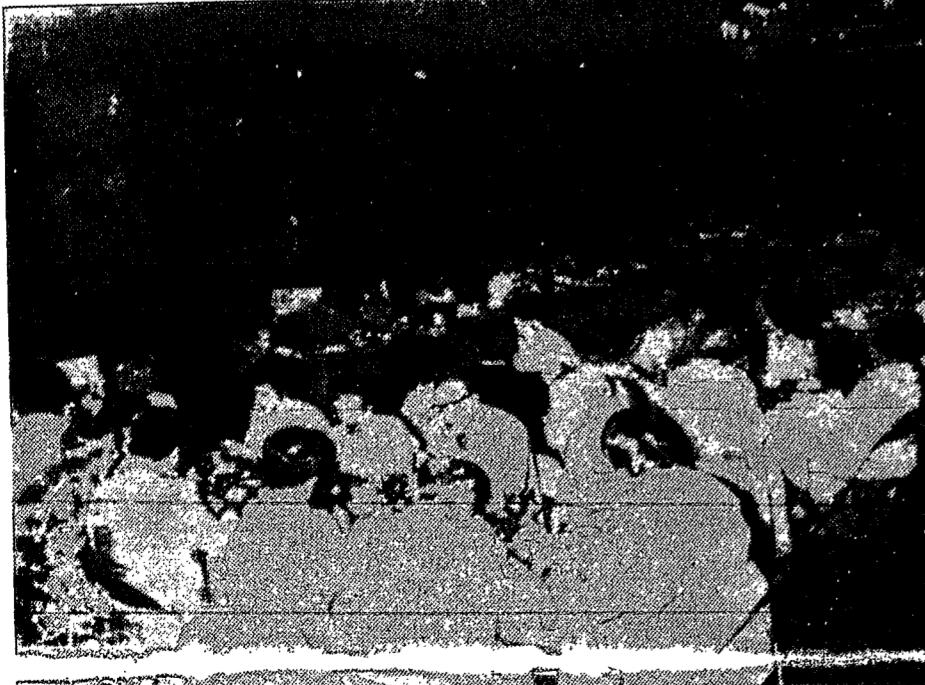

"That figure does not include the amount the city will owe in legal fees," Carver concluded.

spanning that area to the north of the building to the canal. Here, the company agreed to pay $ 63,000 for the property if they decide to proceed with the purchase. In the meantime they are to pay 10 percent, or $ 6,300 per annum on the lease which is for a period of one year with a one year renewal option.

Additionally, the company sought and was granted an easement through additional property for the purpose of extending its present rail spur into the optioned area.

Webre told the supervisors Halter intended to spend between $40 and 100 thousand in improvements. He asked for and obtained permission to use funds presently in the port construction account to purchase the millwork building from the Small Business Administration, a transaction, he said at the last meeting, to cost $ 225,000.

Of this sum the Hancock Bank has agreed to advance some $ 150,000, a loan to be retired from proceeds of the Halter lease.

Verlander said that three of the company's officers were already in the area. One, he said, was building a home on 603, one had settled into Pearlring, and the third was now a resident of Cedar Point.

He said that while Halter would bring a nucleus of trained workers with them they intended to bring this forced up from 15 or 18 to around 30 almost immediately.

Initial production will center on the manufacture of 38-foot sailboats and the development of a 24 and 31 foot Lafitte skiff, according to Mike Brennan, plant manager.

Brennan said last week that future plans call for expansion into the 33 and 44-foot sailboat classes, plus the undertaking of contract work.

He said at that time that peak employment figures would probably be in the 80 to 90 range. Further Brennan allowed that due to the painstaking nature of some of the work women were, in many cases, ideal employees.

concerning the type of pickups made by the department. Torbit said he has had a number of problems with businesses placing trash and garbage in the same containers. He said he had several thoughts on a change in the system and cost of pickups but had not presented them because of the present elections, which he felt would be the wrong time to institute any changes.

A brief discussion was held concerning a request from Alcan Cable Division on Central Ave. to purchase a nearby well. It was suggested by Kidd that the city exchange the well for another well which Alcan would drill and exchange with the city.

Commissioner Larry Bennett presented two petitions for payment of taxes. They were approved by the council.

YOUR ELECTRIC BILL MAY DOUBLE IN THE NEXT FEW MONTHS!

It's that time of the year again. As the weather warms up, you turn on your air conditioner. Your refrigerator and freezer have to run longer. With this increasing use of electricity, your electric service bill goes up.

The following table shows that Mississippi Power Company's typical residential customer buys twice as many kilowatt-hours of electricity in mid-summer as in April:

	Average residential KWH billed	Percent KWH increase over April		Average residential KWH billed	Percent KWH increase over April		Average residential KWH billed	Percent KWH increase over April
1974			1975			1976
April	588 KWH		April	622 KWH		April	596 KWH
May	643 KWH	9.4%	May	682 KWH	9.6%	May	623 KWH	4.5%
June	1,007 KWH	71.3%	June	1,000 KWH	60.8%	June	735 KWH	23.3%
July	1,158 KWH	96.9%	July	1,225 KWH	96.9%	July	1,100 KWH	84.6%
August	1,278 KWH	117.3%	August	1,244 KWH	100.0%	August	1,264 KWH	112.1%
September	1,202 KWH	104.4%	September	1,231 KWH	97.9%	September	1,211 KWH	103.2%

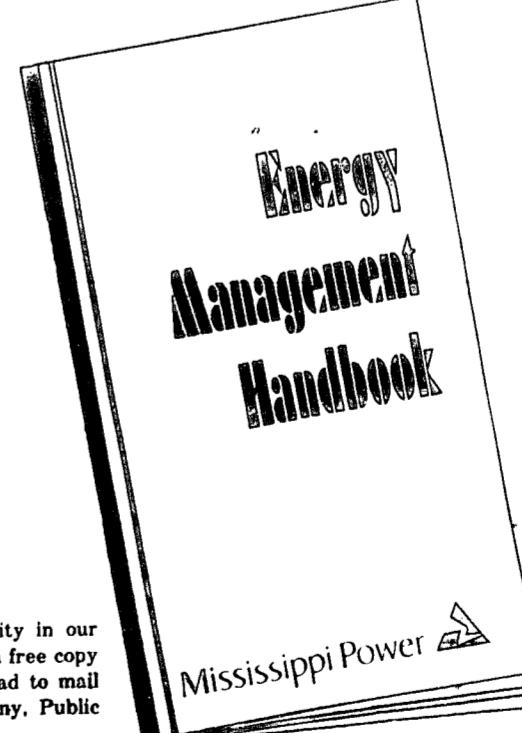

Only you can control the amount of electricity you use.

Every time you decide to switch on an appliance or the thermostat turns it on, our power plants burn more fuel and produce additional electricity which flows to that appliance and makes it operate. The exact amount of electricity you use is measured by your electric meter, and your next bill includes the cost of that electricity.

It costs money to make each kilowatt-hour of electricity and that cost has been rising steadily because of inflation and sharply higher fuel and energy costs. These costs must be recovered in the rates we charge for electric service. No merchant or manufacturer can give away his products and stay in business.

We all want to conserve and keep electric bills from being any larger than necessary, but few of us want to give up the higher standards of living made possible by electricity. Although we can't control your electrical usage, Mississippi Power Company can help you get the most for your electric dollar by providing information about proper energy management.

You'll find many ideas about the wise use of electricity in our newly revised "Energy Management Handbook". Pick up a free copy at any Mississippi Power Company office, or we'll be glad to mail you a copy. Send request to: Mississippi Power Company, Public Information Department, Box 4079, Gulfport, Ms 39501.

THE OLE PASTOR

SAYS...
A DEVOTIONAL COMMENTARY

"I WAS GLAD WHEN THEY SAID UNTO ME, let us go into the house of the Lord" - Psalms 122:1. These were the words of David, king in Israel, and a man after God's own heart - I Samuel 13:14.

Those who attend church services with sincerity, understanding and purpose are wisely and joyfully exercising one of earth's most rewarding privileges.

George Mecklenburg thought of it in this way:

When you attend church, it's not an ordinary act. It is something tremendous. You take a stand for faith and for spiritual interpretation of life. You testify and witness to the faith that is in you.

When you attend church you take the side of the angels, you count on the side of the spiritual, you tell the world you believe in God and eternity and immortality, and that's tremendous!

When you attend church you challenge all that is evil, all that's contrary to the will of God. When you attend church you say to the whole world that you are against lying, cheating, immorality, drunkenness, war and everything that hurts human beings.

When you attend church you tell your neighbors who see you go that you are not simply an earth creature, that you are not giving up all your time to creaturely pleasures, but that you are seeking something higher.

When you attend church you salute Christ and His Church. You appreciate what the Church has done for humanity.

When you attend church you go to God's house to adore, to worship, to praise. You become a part of that host that has been worshipping God down through the ages. You have been caught up in the

HCARC needs your help

What does the word special mean to you? Did you know that there are many special citizens in Hancock County? And that there is an organization that is actively working for these special citizens?

It is the Hancock County Association for Retarded Citizens (HCARC) and it meets on the fourth Thursday of every month at 7:30 p.m. in the Gulf National Bank Civic Room in Bay St. Louis.

The purpose of this organization is to aid each special citizen in every capacity of life. As a group of interested people, we can bring to this county every program that we are entitled to receive from the federal, state and local governments.

But we do need people. People are what make things work together.

Please attend the next HCARC meeting May 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the Gulf National Bank Civic Room and join us in giving our special citizens a chance to live.

Students get law degrees

Two students from Bay St. Louis were awarded degrees this week from Tulane University.

Degrees were conferred by Dr. Sheldon Hackney, president of Tulane, during the university's annual commencement exercises held on campus.

Receiving degrees were: Dennis John Hague, 134 Julia, and James Lawrence McCulloch, 410 N. Beach, both of whom received juris doctor degrees from the School of Law.

Karl May, German author who became famous in the 19th century for his cowboy and Indian stories about the American Wild West, never traveled outside of Germany.

Rocks line path in Spring squad game

Coach Bill Poole's St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws did battle in their annual Spring football game Thursday afternoon at Rock-A-Chaw Stadium.

The game was a close contest with the Red Team 12 to 8 victors. Scoring for the Red team was Bill Kergosien on a 45 yard run in the first quarter and Kergosien, again, on a 2 yard run in the third quarter. Some excellent running by fullback Greg Hammer led to the second touchdown. The team tried after both touchdowns failed.

The White team was held scoreless until the 4th quarter when Hank Logan moved in from the 2 yard line. A two point conversion was also pushed over by Logan.

Head coach Poole is assisted by Howard Patton, offensive line coach and Joey Boh, defensive line coach.

Coach Poole said that "enthusiasm, team spirit, eagerness to learn, desire to excel, and a atmosphere of cooperation are the qualities the Rock-A-Chaws have exhibited these past twenty days".

The Rock-A-Chaws have only twelve returning lettermen from last year's squad. They are: Peter Bernheim, Greg Hammer, Bill Kergosien, Gene Rogers, Glenn Logan, Jay Rousseau, Hank Logan, Todd Edwards, Daniel Handshoe, Jamie McKeough, Joey Cure and Mike Cure.
